DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Application

- [1] Claims 1-46 are pending in the application.
- [2] Applicants' amendment to the claims to add claims 34-46, filed February 26, 2002, is acknowledged.
- [3] Applicants' remarks at pages 6-8 of the amendment filed February 26, 2002 are acknowledged. In view of the instant election/restriction requirement, the examiner will respond to applicants' arguments in the first Office action on the merits.
- [4] The abstract of the disclosure (filed April 27, 2002) does not commence on a separate sheet in accordance with 37 CFR 1.52(b)(4). A new abstract of the disclosure is required and must be presented on a separate sheet, apart from any other text.
- [5] It is noted that applicants claim priority to prior applications (page 2 of the specification filed April 27, 2002)

as follows: The specification is objected to because this paragraph is not placed at the first paragraph of the specification and

PRIOR APPLICATIONS

This application is a continuation-in-part of U.S. patent application Serial No. 054,185 filed April 26, 1993 which is a continuation of U.S. patent application Serial No. 474,857 filed October 30, 1990, now abandoned and of U.S. patent application Serial No. 002,608 filed January 11, 1993 which is a continuation of U.S. patent application Serial No. 474,798 filed July 16, 1990, now abandoned.

it does not properly identify the application numbers of those applications to which priority is claimed (e.g., is application 474, 857 a 09/, 08/, or 07/ series?)

[6] This application contains sequence disclosures that are encompassed by the definitions for nucleotide and/or amino acid sequences set forth in 37 CFR 1.821(a)(1) and (a)(2). However, this application fails to comply with the requirements of 37

Art Unit: 1652

CFR 1.821 through 1.825; applicants' attention is directed to the final rulemaking notice published at 55 FR 18230 (May 1, 1990), and 1114 OG 29 (May 15, 1990). To be in compliance, applicants should identify nucleotide sequences of at least 10 nucleotides and amino acid sequences of at least 4 amino acids in the specification by a proper sequence identifier, i.e., "SEQ ID NO:" (see MPEP 2422.01). If these sequences have not been listed in the computer readable form and paper copy of the sequence listing, applicant must provide an initial computer readable form (CRF) copy of the "Sequence Listing", an initial paper copy of the "Sequence Listing", as well as an amendment directing its entry into the specification, and a statement that the content of the paper and CRF copies are the same and, where applicable, include no new matter as required by 37 C.F.R. 1.821(e) or 1.821(f) or 1.821(g) or 1.821(b) or 1.825(d). See particularly pages 35, 38, 40, 44, 46, 56, 58, 60-63, 65-68, 73-75, 84-87, 89, and 94 and the descriptions of Figures 3, 5, 7, 13, 18, 20, 23, 25, 29, 33, 36-38, and 40.

Election/Restrictions

- [7] Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claim(s) 1-18, 25-29, 31, and 33-46, drawn to an expression cassette, a recombinant host cell, a process for the preparation of an exogenous protein or proteins, classified in class 435, subclass 69.1.
  - II. Claim(s) 19-24, 30, and 32, drawn to a process for selective biochemical oxidation and a process for the preparation of hydrocortisone, classified in class 435, subclass 59.1.

Art Unit: 1652

- [8] The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:
- [9] The recombinant host cell of Group I and the methods of Group II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the polynucleotide of the expression cassette of Group I can be used as a hybridization probe or as a template for polymerase chain reaction.
- [10] MPEP § 803 sets forth two criteria for a proper restriction between patentably distinct inventions: (A) The inventions must be independent or distinct as claimed and (B) There must be a serious burden on the examiner. As shown above, each of the inventions of Groups I-II are independent or distinct, thus satisfying the first criterion for a proper restriction. MPEP § 803 additionally states that a serious burden on the examiner may be prima facie shown if the examiner shows by appropriate explanation either separate classification, separate status in the art, or a different field of search. Each of the inventions requires a separate patent and non-patent literature search requiring a different text search for each Group and thus, co-examination of the inventions of Groups I-II would place a serious burden on the examiner.

Rejoinder

[11] The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Conclusion

[12] Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

[13] Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
